Welcome To The Reverend Lydia Neshangwe

Sunday, September 29 at 2 p.m.

Lydia Neshangwe is an ordained minister of the UPCS, a transnational Presbyterian denomination with churches in South Africa, Zambia and Zimbabwe.

She currently serves as clerk of the Presbytery of Zimbabwe and minister of St Andrew's Church, a culturally diverse congregation. She is the founder of the 'Centre for Growth,' a center that conducts seminars, workshops and group therapy sessions for personal growth, spiritual growth and wholeness. Lydia serves as the Zimbabwe Coordinator of an international non-profit organization, Hope's Promise, providing orphan care in Zimbabwe, Nepal, Kenya and Vietnam. Her husband Paul is also a UPCS minister and they have two teenage boys and multiple non-biological children.

She writes, "Outside of my church and ecumenical responsibilities, I love arts and crafts, reading books from around the world and travelling."

The Reverend Lydia Neshangwe is an International Peacemaker and she will speak at Westminster Presbyterian church at 2 p.m. on Sunday, September 29. A short reception will follow, served by the Deacons.
